When there are elderly family members in the family, they need to be paid attention towards on regular basis. They are in some cases not self-sufficient and need to be provided with support and assistance. Therefore, understanding family dynamics will contribute efficiently in leading to progression. In India, more than 70 percent of the population resides in rural communities. In these communities, agriculture and farming practices are regarded as the primary occupations of the individuals. The individuals are engaged in these in order to sustain their living conditions in an effective manner. But the rural individuals have recognized the meaning and significance of education. They have formed the viewpoint that education is the instrument that not only imparts information regarding academic subjects and lesson plans, but also in terms of ways that are necessary in emerging into moral and ethical human beings. Furthermore, individuals will emerge into productive citizens of the country. In order to acquire education, the individuals migrate from rural to urban communities. In this manner, they are moving at a distance from their families. It is comprehensively understood that in order to acquire good-quality education and promote enrichment of career prospects, individuals will have to live their lives at a distance from their families. Therefore, the concept of family dynamics is understood in a satisfactory manner [1] [2].

A. Understanding the Meaning and Significance of Family Dynamics

An aimless life is a meaningless life. Hence, all individuals, belonging to all communities, categories and socio-economic backgrounds have different types of goals and objectives to achieve. The family members are required to make provision of help and assistance to each other in achievement of different types of goals and objectives. The individuals need financial resources. The family members are the ones, who make provision of financial resources to the individuals in order to help them to achieve their desired goals and objectives. The parents are regarded as the first and foremost teachers of their children. They make savings for their children in order to lead to their progression. Furthermore, the family members render an important contribution in differentiating between appropriate and inappropriate factors. Within homes, within the course of pursuance of educational programs and putting into operation job duties within employment settings, there are occurrences of various types of problems and challenging situations that are overwhelming. The individuals provide solutions to these on their own as well as through obtaining ideas and suggestions from others. The family members are first and foremost individuals that are consulted for obtaining help. Hence, it is necessary to form cordial and amiable terms and relationships with family members (The Indian Family System, n.d.). This is facilitated through leading to up-gradation of communication skills and interactive abilities. Furthermore, one needs to form positive viewpoints regarding all individuals and treat them with respect and courtesy. Therefore, individuals are able to acquire an efficient understanding of family dynamics, when they are able to communicate with them to obtain help in order to solve all types of problems [4] [5].
